VI. Pedestrian Survey at all major intersections for peak periods. Both along and across movements will be counted to gauge the Intensity of pedestrian Traffic for provision of requisite pedestrian facilities as well as minimizing pedestrian vehicular conflicts.

3.7 Engineering Surveys and Investigations

3.7.1 Topographic Surveys

The basic objective of the topographic survey would be to capture the essential ground features along the alignment in order to consider improvements and for working out improvements, rehabilitation and upgrading costs. The detailed topographic surveys should normally be taken up after the completion of reconnaissance surveys.

The carrying out of topographic surveys will be one of the most important and crucial field tasks under the project. The detailed field surveys shall be carried out using high precision instruments i.e. Total stations. The data from the topographic surveys shall be available in (x, y, z) format for use in a sophisticated digital terrain model (DTM).

The detailed field surveys would essentially include the following activities:

- Topographic Surveys along the Existing Right of Way (ROW): Running a continuous open Traverse along the existing road, wherever required, and fixation of all cardinal points such as horizontal intersection points (HIP's), centre points and transit points etc. and properly referencing the same with a pair of reference pillars fixed on either side of the centre-line at safe places within the ROW.
- Collection of details for all features such as structures (bridges, culverts etc.) utilities, existing roads, electric and telephone installations (both O/H as well as underground), buildings, fencing and trees (with girth greater than 0.3 metre) oil and gas lines etc. falling within the RoW or building to building.

Longitudinal and Cross-Sections

The topographic surveys for longitudinal and cross-sections shall cover the following:

- Longitudinal section levels along final centre line at every 25 m interval, at the locations of curve points, intersections and at the locations of change in elevation.
- Longitudinal section for cross roads for length adequate for design and quantity estimation purposes. (Minimum 50 m)

Detailed Survey

Topographic survey shall collect details of all important physical features along the Junction alignment. These features affect the project proposals and should normally include buildings and structures, monuments, burial grounds, cremation grounds, places of worship, railway lines, stream / river / canal, water mains, severs, gas/ oil pipes, crossings, trees, plantations, utility services such as electric, and telephone lines and poles, optical fibre cables (OFC) etc. The survey would cover the entire right-of-way of the road on the adequate allowance for possible shifting of the central lines at some of the intersections locations.

The information collected during reconnaissance and field surveys shall be shown on a strip plan so that the proposed improvements can be appreciated and utility removals of each type etc. assessed and suitable actions can be initiated. Separate strip plan for each of the services involved shall be prepared for submission/coordination with the concerned agency.

3.10 Economic Viability [DELETED]

(i) Economic Costs

The Consultant shall identify current road user and road maintenance costs and shall produce valid current estimates of such costs for the junction in its present and improved state.

Since the greatest element of measurable and quantifiable user benefits to be derived from the improvement of the junction is derived from savings in vehicle operating costs, the Consultant shall give particular attention to the development of valid current estimates of such costs. the Consultant shall ensure that all individual factor unit costs (such as vehicle prices, interest rates, tyres, fuel, crew wages, insurance, etc.) input into the model are derived from direct investigation of present costs.
